

Search online university events in one place with UniTasterDays

The coming weeks will see an increase in online events advertised by universities UK-wide – with institutions offering a fantastic range of virtual university open day, webinar and online chat opportunities. These events can be booked for school groups, or in most cases, directly by post-16 students.

To support you and your students when searching for these online university events, UniTasterDays are listing these in one place through our new online event directory – with new events added daily by universities UK-wide. Please pass on details of this free resource to your students and colleagues (over 150 events have been added in just a week – with new events daily): <https://www.unitasterdays.com/online>

The DevClever team would really appreciate input from careers advisers on how they can develop their Launchyourcareer.com platform and analytics dashboard. This could take the form of individual feedback, a Zoom call or helping them to establish an advisory group. This is a great opportunity to influence product development so it meets the needs of both young people and captures the type of data that you will find useful in your work as a careers adviser. You can register for free and have a look around at www.launchyourcareer.com/adviserlanding

As well as brand new STEM home learning activities to complete, there is a UK Sport Competition (four age categories from 5 – 18 years) with fantastic prizes to be won, plus many more interesting links, engineering quizzes and career videos.
